

Avera Interprofessional Continuing Education

August 2022 Updates

AveraContinuingEducation@avera.org

Doesn't it just amaze you how quickly summer passes each year? Time sure does fly when you are having fun! We have been experiencing some of the same feelings with Joint Accreditation. It seems like it was just a few months ago that we got approval to pursue it! Now, we are excited to let you know that we have submitted our application for Joint Accreditation and our interview is scheduled for September 21st!

Joint Accreditation offers the ability to award additional credits such as ACPE national pharmacy credits and ACE national social work credits. This will bring changes to the application and the demographic information in the Avera CE Portal and a few minor changes to the application. See below for training dates explaining the changes. All the web-ex sessions will be recorded, emailed, and placed on the CE Planner Resources tab*.

Thank you to several CE planners that provided additional information about education they created! We couldn't have done it without you.

Reminders

2022 RSS Applications	Disclosure Form	Enduring Material Applications
2023 RSS Applications will need to be submitted no later than October 31st for January 1, 2023 activation. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> RSS Basic Reminder Webinar held September 1st (11-12pm)* RSS Complex Webinar held September 1st (2-3pm)* 	The Disclosure Form has been updated to include the following statement. I understand accredited education must be free of marketing or sales of products or services. I cannot actively promote or sell products or services that serve my professional or financial interests during accredited education	Enduring Materials can now be set up as interactive courses. This does take additional time to design. For more information contact Averacontinuingeducation@avera.org.
2022 Enduring Material	2023 Application Training	Exhibitor/Vendor Registration
All enduring material will end on December 31, 2022 as we will need to switch over to Joint Accreditation from our current accreditors. We will not accept Enduring Material Applications for 2022 publication beginning October 1st. To request an exception, please email Amy.Skoglund@avera.org	Training for 2023 Application to review Joint Accreditation requirements and new credit types offered will be held October 13th from 12-1pm*	Cloud has added additional programming for us to be able to “save” vendor packages! This will allow you to easily repeat things from year to year. They also have a handy tool for vendors to add attendees without having to complete registration for each person! Look for a “Show and Tell” this Fall!

3 Helpful Hints

Application - Find Disclosure Button	Participant Information is Confidential	Application Update – Update Disclosure button
The ‘Find Disclosure’ button has been added to each page in the Application. This no longer requires an exact match. 	Participant contact information cannot be provided to the exhibitors/vendors. This is to be in compliance with the Standards for Integrity and Independence in Accredited Continuing Education.	A new button “Update Missing Disclosures” has been added to the Planners & Faculty page in the Application. This can be used to refresh to see if Committee/Faculty have completed a disclosure.
